New Ways to Learn

IT is what we do

Our Approach

At New Ways to Learn, training is not about teaching teachers how to use kit; it is about how teachers can use technologies and digital tools in combination with their own expertise and creativity to improve learning and teaching.

Our workshops have taken us; into classrooms with students, with staff on INSET days, up early for breakfast sessions, staying late for twilights, 1:1 with teachers over lunchtime surgeries, hands-on with parents in the evening, working across Trusts, running webinars from our office, Google hangouts and even outside, on warm sunny days! That's how we roll - tailored and 100% flexible.

The most important thing in getting any workshop right for a school or college is careful planning, flexible delivery and regular follow ups - all done in a structured, fun and engaging way.

We will work with you to develop a training and CPD plan, and deliver professional training by highly experienced and fully accredited educators which we find is the game changer for schools when it comes to integrating new technology.

All of our trainers have years of classroom experience as teachers and senior leaders, so fully understand the challenges as well as the potential benefits of using technology effectively in the classroom.

Choose from our 3 approaches.

1. Training and CPD Support Packages

How much time spent on training is enough? In many cases considerable investments are made without the appropriate level of change management and support being established. Teachers regularly cite a lack of effective training and support as being a key factor in being unable to successfully embed new technologies and applications into teaching practice.

Why not complement your investment with one of our hugely popular support packages. They represent great value for money and are all about developing a partnership that will support you along the way and are renowned for working well beyond the bond of partnership. We are happy for you to include your foundation and partner schools in the courses.

2. On-site Workshop

Hands on and fully tailored. A workshop with you on-site for a full or half day.

We can run workshops at your school in a number of formats including in-class sessions, drop-in surgeries, twilights and full INSET days. Over 95% of the days we run in schools are on a normal school day.

Many schools prefer this kind of workshop as it enables them to govern the format, the level and who should attend. We are happy to start early or finish late - all part of the service we offer. Simply choose a "theme" e.g. 'Google', and we'll design the rest of the workshop with you.

3. NWL Training Academy

Affordable and social. Why not join one of our workshops near you...

We are delighted to work with schools all over the country that have kindly volunteered to become a New Ways to Learn Training Academy. Workshops run throughout the year and we have availability on workshops and courses across the country.

Workshops are just £95 for a full day and £55 for a half day, per attendee. Packages include short video tutorials to support retention and learning-on-demand. Visit our website to get yourself onto a workshop today - places go very quickly!
