

We'll help you get there, with sound advice and guidance. Every time.

The advice and support provided to us by New Ways to Learn has been excellent. We moved forwards significantly in our IT provision thanks to their ideas and approach and staff training.

ALVASTON & VILLAGE SCHOOLS TRUST

At New Ways to Learn we are strong believers in giving schools everything they need to make informed choices. To get you closer to your vision we'll share our experiences, ed-tech research and best practice with you, giving you every opportunity to get hands-on and involve all your stakeholders throughout the journey.

New Ways to Learn are fully qualified teachers and senior leaders with decades of classroom and change management experience.

IT is what we do

WHAT DO WE OFFER?

We've got to where we are through our successes and most importantly, lessons learnt. This is the starting point to get you going on your strategy for technology across your Trust or School. You may be defining a new approach for learning with technology, or getting ready to take the leap into BYOD and keen to understand leasing options or parental contribution. You may be looking to migrate to O365 or G Suite (Google), or thinking of introducing iPads to all year 7 students. Whatever the requirement, it is a journey that we can make easier. For sure.

Just some of the ways we can help. Call us to get started...

Thinking about 'going Google'? You'll want to think about things like email migration, how to set up G Suite, integrating existing devices, controlling Google services and maybe even Active Directory (AD) integration. We can work with you to take the right approach, avoid mistakes and even deliver the solution for you as part of our wider services. This is not just about email. It is an opportunity to create a truly collaborative ecosystem that has the potential to engage teachers, students and even parents, like nothing before it.

Looking at a 1:1 Scheme? With over 15 years of experience here, we can work with you to uncover the best approaches in terms of leasing or parental contributions, as well as the right management and deployment solution.

Crucially, with our expertise in CPD we can ensure that teachers are ready to embrace the huge potential a 1:1 scheme can offer. The right approach is as important as the technology here.

Migrating to Office 365? Email is the easy bit to get right. We can work with you to tap into the potential of Groups, SharePoint Online, Shared Cloud Storage and maximising the value of Office 365.

Looking for a Trust-wide ICT Strategy? This is what we do best! We can work with your schools to unify approaches and get the most out of technology.

“Excellent and thoroughly worthwhile. Very informative...”
